BIRDWATCHING ETIQUETTE

- Use designated viewing sites to watch the birds, respecting private property. Most land in the Platte River valley is private.

- Don’t attempt to approach birds on their roosts or as they feed in the fields.

- Weather conditions can change rapidly on the great plains during late winter and early spring. Plan accordingly by bringing attire that is suitable for cold temperatures.